Why higher education?

Opportunities while studying:

- Chance to study a subject they are passionate about.
- Achieve a qualification that could lead to their chosen career.
- Grow in confidence, make lifelong friends, and gain independence and important life skills that will widen their prospects.

With a degree, they'll have:

- the opportunity to follow their career path
- better job prospects, as many employers target graduates
- higher earning potential

Choosing the right university

- Style – from the traditional, with a focus on subject-based courses and research, to modern universities, with a greater focus on vocational courses.
- Location – some are based in large cities, others in smaller towns - a major influence on the environment and lifestyle.
- Size – larger universities can have more than 20,000 students, whereas some of the smallest have only a few thousand.
- Culture and facilities – influenced by a range of factors, including the diversity of students who attend.
- What graduates do – all universities collect destination statistics. It can be interesting to find out the types of jobs or further study students go on to.
- Tuition fees – can vary between course providers. Check if there are any scholarships or bursaries available.
- Living costs – accommodation, transport, and food can vary enormously.

Choosing the right course

- What does the course cover? Courses with the same title may be very different.
- Look carefully at the core course content, and the range of optional studies/modules available.
- Which modules are the most interesting and relevant to career aspirations?
- See if the course or university/college offers any internship, placement, or study abroad opportunities.
- How is the course taught – structured teaching, or more independent research? How many lectures are there, and how much group work will be done in seminars?
- How is the course assessed?
